

Ceramic Industry

March 2009

NETZSCH Fine Particle Technology LLC* has appointed John Hill application and process advisor. In his new position, Hill will work closely with customers in a variety of industries to solve their most difficult challenges in implementing nano-technology. He will also provide process support for the regional sales team and oversee the customer research and development laboratory.